“ We offer a personalised service; we sit down and get to know our clients and show them products from a global gallery rather than what’s available on the showroom floor.” – Debbie Cavit.

Debbie Cavit, who began the venture almost three decades ago, has relocated the business from a large showroom to a more domestic environment as the process of refining a home becomes more personal.

Cavit grew up receiving pieces of furniture from her father as birthday presents, which developed a lifelong love of design and a clear understanding of the power it has to create joy. This passion sees her travelling the globe annually in search of the best premium brands and products. A favourite stop being New York and North Carolina, where she attends the High Point Furniture Show – the must-see event in home furnishings.

Through this process Cavit has connected with leading designers and experts in the field, such as Barbara Barry and Kelly Wearstler, keeping her abreast of current movements within the sector.

It is this ongoing genuine enthusiasm towards the makers and the core industry both here and overseas that has informed Debbie Cavit’s renowned discerning eye over the years, giving her the breadth of knowledge required to present such a balanced selection of sophisticated, distinctive and sensual designs.

“ We believe you should buy the best you can buy and live with it for a lifetime” – Debbie Cavit

The importance of the quality of manufacture, form, proportion and sustainability are key values for Cavit+Co, this is evident the minute you enter the new gallery. Beautiful pieces of furniture sit intermingled with lamps, art and bespoke homewares within two separate rooms either side of the entrance, creating an intimate setting to absorb and enjoy the various objects of desire.

Cavit+Co specialise in bringing luxury into the everyday. They are located 463 Parnell Road. For more information or to connect directly with Debbie and the team visit cavitco.com
